Patrick Hanley Named Key Account Manager

AGAWAM, Mass., August 2021 – OMG Roofing Products has promoted Patrick Hanley of Orlando, Fla., to the position of Key Account Manager, the company announced today.

In his new role, Patrick will be responsible for managing several strategic accounts with a high level of responsiveness and customer service. Patrick started with OMG in 2020 as the solar sales manager and has been instrumental in the growth of the solar product line. He reports to Monte Horst, vice president of sales and marketing.

“Patrick is a dedicated and talented manager, who has demonstrated a commitment to helping the company grow by providing outstanding customer support and a high degree of focus on the details,” said Monte. “I’m confident that he will continue to thrive in his new role as a key account manager.”

Patrick holds a bachelor’s degree from Oklahoma Baptist University in Shawnee, Oklahoma. He can be reached at 812.363.3640 or by email at PHanley@omginc.com.
